

Cable companies should be required to open access to their facilities just as the Bells are required to do. The LECs operate an "essential facility." In order to accomodate competition, other ISP firms need to have the ability to purchase access from LECs at wholesale. This wholesale provisioning benefits consumers and stimulates competition. Chairman Powell: Please consider enhancing competition in this developing technological market. Require LECs to provide access to this "essential facility."